1.01?

NASW-007

1.02 and its limit?

NASW-008

1.03(a)?

NASW-002

No. The Purpose section says it gives no hierarchy for resolving conflicts; social workers use professional judgment and consultation.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) Purpose

NASW-001

Service, social justice, dignity and worth of the person, importance of human relationships, integrity, competence.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) Preamble

NASW-004

Self-care language in the Purpose and Integrity principle, and cultural competence revisions, including cultural humility (1.05(c)).

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) Purpose; 1.05

NASW-003

Make a responsible effort to resolve the conflict consistent with the Code's values; if that fails, seek consultation.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) Purpose

NASW-006

Commitment to clients: clients' interests are primary, though loyalty to clients can be outweighed by legal or societal obligations (such as reporting duties).

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.01

NASW-005

1 clients, 2 colleagues, 3 practice settings, 4 as professionals, 5 the profession, 6 the broader society.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) Ethical Standards

NASW-008

Informed consent in clear language: purpose, risks, limits due to third-party payers, costs, alternatives, right to refuse or withdraw, and time frame.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.03(a)

NASW-007

Self-determination. Social workers may limit it when they judge that a client's actions pose a serious, foreseeable and imminent risk to the client or others.

1.04?

NASW-015

1.05(c)?

NASW-016

1.06(c)?

NASW-010

Clients who lack capacity: seek permission from an appropriate third party and inform the client in a way the client can understand.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.03(c)

NASW-009

Clients with language or literacy barriers: make sure they understand, which may include using a qualified interpreter.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.03(b)

NASW-012

Technology-delivered services: obtain informed consent at the start, including verifying the client's identity and location.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.03(f)

NASW-011

Involuntary clients: explain the nature and extent of services and the extent of the right to refuse.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.03(d)

NASW-014

Competence: practice only within your education, training and experience; get training and supervision before using new techniques; follow technology laws where you and the client are.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.04

NASW-013

(h) Consent before recording sessions or letting third parties observe. (i) Consent before searching for client information online, except in emergencies.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.03(h); 1.03(i)

NASW-016

Avoid dual relationships that risk exploitation or harm; when unavoidable, the social worker sets clear, culturally sensitive boundaries.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.06(c)

NASW-015

Cultural humility: self-reflection, treating clients as experts on their culture, lifelong learning and holding institutions accountable.

1.07(f) and 1.07(g)?

NASW-023

1.07(h)?

NASW-024

1.07(j)?

NASW-018

(e) Avoid personal, non-work electronic communication with clients. (h) Don't accept friend requests or form personal relationships with clients on social media.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.06(e); 1.06(h)

NASW-017

When serving two or more people who know each other (couples, families), clarify who the clients are and each person's obligations.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.06(d)

NASW-020

When feasible, tell clients before disclosing confidential information, and about the possible consequences.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(d)

NASW-019

Disclose without consent only for compelling professional reasons, such as preventing serious, foreseeable and imminent harm, and only the minimum necessary.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(c)

NASW-022

(f) In family, couples or group work, seek agreement to keep confidences but say it can't be guaranteed. (g) Explain the policy on disclosures among participants.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(f); 1.07(g)

NASW-021

Discuss confidentiality and its limits with clients early and as needed throughout the relationship.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(e)

NASW-024

In legal proceedings, protect confidentiality; if ordered to disclose, ask the court to withdraw or limit the order or seal the records.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(j)

NASW-023

Don't disclose confidential information to third-party payers unless the client has authorized it.

1.09(a) and 1.09(c)?

NASW-031

1.09(d)?

NASW-032

1.10?

NASW-026

Never post identifying or confidential client information on websites or social media.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(r)

NASW-025

Secure electronic communications (encryption, passwords); have policies for notifying clients of breaches; tell clients about unauthorized access.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(m)-(o)

NASW-028

Protect the confidentiality of deceased clients just as for living clients.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(w)

NASW-027

Don't identify clients when teaching or training, or in consultation, unless the client consents (or, for consultation, there is a compelling need).

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.07(u); 1.07(v)

NASW-030

(a) Never sexual activity with current clients. (c) Avoid it with former clients; the social worker bears the full burden of showing there was no exploitation. No time limit is set.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.09(a); 1.09(c)

NASW-029

Give clients reasonable access to their records; limit access only in exceptional cases with compelling evidence of serious harm, and document why.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.08(a)

NASW-032

Physical contact: avoid it when it could cause psychological harm; when appropriate, the social worker sets clear, culturally sensitive boundaries.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.10

NASW-031

Don't provide clinical services to former sexual partners.

1.16(a) and 1.16(c)?

NASW-039

1.17(b)?

NASW-040

1.17(c)?

NASW-034

Avoid bartering for services; allowed only rarely, if client-initiated, accepted locally, essential and not exploitative, with the burden on the social worker.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.13(b)

NASW-033

Derogatory language: use accurate and respectful language in all communications with and about clients.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.12

NASW-036

Clients who lack decision-making capacity: act to safeguard their interests and rights.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.14

NASW-035

Don't charge a private fee for services the client is entitled to through the social worker's employer or agency.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.13(c)

NASW-038

(a) Refer when another professional's expertise is needed or progress stalls. (c) Never give or receive payment for a referral when no service is provided.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.16(a); 1.16(c)

NASW-037

Interruption of services: make reasonable efforts to ensure continuity if services are interrupted by unavailability, relocation, illness, disability or death.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.15

NASW-040

Terminating for nonpayment is allowed if the arrangements were clear, the client is not a danger to self or others, and the consequences were discussed.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.17(c)

NASW-039

Don't abandon clients who still need services; withdraw abruptly only in unusual circumstances, with care to minimize harm.

NASW-042

Consultation: seek advice when it serves clients, consult only colleagues with relevant expertise, and share the minimum information necessary.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 2.05

NASW-041

(e) Notify clients promptly of a planned interruption and arrange continued care. (f) When leaving an agency, explain continuation options and their risks and benefits.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 1.17(e); 1.17(f)

NASW-044

Impairment of colleagues: (a) consult the colleague and help them take remedial action; (b) if that fails, act through appropriate channels.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 2.08

NASW-043

Supervisors and educators must not have sexual contact with supervisees, students or trainees over whom they have authority.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 2.06(a)

NASW-046

Unethical conduct of colleagues (including online): discuss with the colleague when feasible and productive (c); use formal channels such as boards when needed (d); defend the unjustly accused (e).

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 2.10

NASW-045

Incompetence of colleagues: consult the colleague first; if not addressed, act through appropriate channels.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 2.09

NASW-048

Make sure clients are routinely told when students are providing their services.

NASW Code of Ethics (2021) 3.02(c)

NASW-047
